Subject: Heat in office and room # 11

Hi Peter, I know we run into the same problems with excessive heat in the office and room 11 every heating season. I have to run both boilers to get condensate back and it creates a lot of heat in those two rooms overnight. I can't leave windows open overnight to either of the rooms because kids can climb in. So my only alternative is to shut the boilers off and get complaints about being cold, and then I have to babysit the boilers at start up, adding a ton of water each time I shut them off and then chemical again. I'm putting in service requests to have fresh air fans installed, that I can leave on overnight, so these rooms aren't in the mid 80's each morning. There should be no problems with freezing pipes if they are mounted far enough away from heating pipes. Thanks

Dear Connaught School Community Council,

On November 14 at 7:30 p.m., Save Our Connaught Heritage is hosting an information night at the Cathedral Neighbourhood Centre. The purpose is to bring community members up to speed on where things are at with the school, including assuring people that Connaught remains open for business. As well, there will be information about where things are at with community efforts to develop a greater variety of options for the school.

We would like to invite a parent or community member from the SCC to give greetings and say some words on behalf of the SCC, to provide a quick run-down of communications with/from the board since last February, and to answer any questions people may have, to the best of your ability.

We would also like the SCC to invite Connaught School parents, through a newsletter notice or a flyer for students to take home. Past practice for advertising for non-board sanctioned meetings and events at Connaught has been for parent volunteers to visit classrooms to distribute notices via the students. (The right of SCC's to advertise community meetings in this manner was confirmed by the Davin SCC after discussions with the board office not long ago, in 2008. We can provide the copying).

We also extend the invitation to all SCC members to join us for what will be an evening of positive community-based conversations about our school and neighbourhood. Thank you very much. We look forward to your reply.

Hi Carla,

I am working on putting together a powerpoint presentation for the information night on November 14th. I have some interesting statistics from our tour of the historic schools in Moose Jaw. This led me wonder if you would be able to help me obtain some information regarding utility costs for schools here in Regina. Is it possible that you could provide me with the annual total utilities costs for Connaught, Davin, Douglas Park and Arcola School? I don't need a breakdown of the costs. I just need total annual costs for all utilities. Heat, power, telephone, internet, etc. Do you think that you will be able to get this information for me? Any information would be greatly appreciated.

I hope to see you on the 14th. Thank you in advance for any help that you maybe able to provide.

Hi there,

I hope that you are enjoying the long weekend.

This is not a matter of immediate importance, it can wait until next week.

I am wondering how the SCC/ trustee meetings are being communicated to the SCCs?

The reason I ask is that the Connaught SCC is planning a potluck/meeting on Dec.3--the same time as our Subdivision 5 meeting at Scott.

Connaught information night!

What's happening with the campaign to save Regina's oldest public school? Save Our Connaught Heritage is holding a coffee, dessert and public information night at the Cathedral Neighbourhood Centre on Thursday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. The evening will include a presentation by building conservation specialist June Botkin, who has been studying Connaught and gathering expert opinions. As well, some parents and students from Regina's new schools will share their experiences, and Moose Jaw heritage advocate Bruce Bell will explain how heritage planning fits into their city's development. Representatives from the province's heritage community will be on hand to give greetings. The brief presentations will be followed by informal mingling and conversation with the speakers.

Raffle prizes and dessert bar are provided by Chocolates by Bernard Callebaut, Dessart Sweets, Canada Safeway, and Cathedral Bakery, but don't be shy to bring your own baking. As always, children are welcome!

Hi Carla:

There have been a number of emails sent to principals by Alma reminding them and asking them to promote the dates at the SCC meetings and in their newsletters. I will verify on Tuesday how many and that Chris received them. Principals were also informed verbally by me personally back in Sept, of the Board's intention to hold these, although not the specific dates.

I know why you raise the concern however.....

Hi Amy,

First of all, thank you for the invitation.

I am afraid that we have suffered a communication break down regarding the 3rd of December.

We (trustees) are scheduled to be at the Subdivision 5 SCC/Trustee meeting at Scott that same night at the same time.

If there is another night that I could come out and hear from the SCC and take questions, I would welcome it. However, I cannot make it on the 3rd.

I am truly sorry for this miscommunication.

Hi Katherine,

I only caught the last bit, mostly the question and answer portion. I do not think that anything was revealed that we do not already know.

There was a lot of support for the heritage building.

They would still like access to the building to assess the condition to a further degree. I asked a question about the time and money it would take to complete an ultrasound that June spoke of. The cost was $2000 I believe and the time was under 6 hours.

They were also very upset about what they perceived as blocking of information, particularly that hand bills were not allowed to go home with children regarding the event.

That is all I can recall right now.

Thank you for your inquiry. In response to the particulars of your situation, I have asked one of our senior administrators to be in touch with you as there may be nuances I am unaware of.

In general, boundaries are established to try and distribute population appropriately for the capacity of the neighborhood school. They are reviewed and sometimes adjusted because school populations ebb and flow as a result of decisions made by parents over which the Board has no control: we don't get to decide where people buy or build.

Transportation service is provided to students who live far enough from a school to need the service: we establish walk limits to apply consistency because we are not funded to transport everyone.

I trust you will get a more detailed response once Mr. Luc Lerminaux, Superintendent RPS is in touch with you. Please do not hesitate to be back in touch if you have remaining questions.

Hi Katherine,

I am unable to attend the school board forum on December 3rd. I would like to ask the School Board a question and was directed to you in order to voice my concern. Thank you for helping me to raise my question with the Board.

I would like the Board to describe the rationale for Regina's public school boundaries, including boundaries for busing. My observation is that schools in Regina are bounded by geographic landmarks that appear arbitrary and unrelated to population data or density (or geometry).

I understand that boundaries are necessary to encourage students to enrol in their nearest school. I notice, however, that students are not bused to their nearest school. Instead, they are bused to the nearest school in their zone. In our case, we live a 5 minute drive from our nearest school

(Ecole Connaught) but we are zoned to a school that is 45 minutes away on a school bus (Massey), and is not in my neighbourhood.

Here is my question:

If families are being encouraged to enrol children in their closest school (according to the School Board website), why is there no assurance of transportation to the nearest school?

The people who manage bus services should have the discretion to enable students to attend their nearest school. I find government's recent commitment to put students first very promising. I am hopeful that our growing population and discussions about our school facilities will result in a renewed, deliberate focus on the interests of children.

Thank you

I will look for direction from the Board, while having Debra check out the legalities. Not sure if FOI applies or how.

Subject: Information request

Dear Trustee Beck,

In correspondence with supporters of Connaught School, trustee Aleana Young alluded to the existence of an engineer's report on Connaught School that would appear to be new information. We are writing to request a copy of this or any other reports pertaining to Connaught's structural condition that have been generated after the initial facility audit and opinion of cost letter that were included with P3's feasibility report.

Having attended the latter half of the Connaught information night held at the neighbourhood centre on Thursday, I'm sure you would have noticed that the room was full to capacity and that community interest in addressing and securing the school's future is rising rather than dissipating. Therefore it is more important than ever to have full public disclosure of all documents and discussions relating to our school and its future.

We look forward to hearing from you on this matter as soon as possible. Thank you very much.

Hi,

I was hoping that you would supply me with a few dates besides Tuesdays that would work for the both of you but I guess I didn't make that clear in my message. Sorry about that! :)

I'll discuss meeting on another night with the rest of the SCC at our next meeting to see what they want to do. Can you both see if there is another day of the week in January or February that would work?

Amy

Hi Amy,

Thank you for changing the date. As Aleana mentioned we do have an SCC meeting at Campbell that night. I could try to make both again, but they are running until about 8:40pm or so.

I know that Tuesdays work well for the SCC. Tuesdays also happen to be the date that we have all of our Board meetings and it is the night that we have attempted to schedule many of our other meetings (ie. SCC/Trustee meetings).

I also have Transition House Board meetings on Tuesdays, so I truly only rarely have a free Tuesday.

In December, the only Tuesday I have available is the 24th. I do not have a single free Tuesday in January.

I would really like to make it our to a meeting, however if it must be on a Tuesday that will be problematic.

Please let me know if there is any day of the week other than Tuesday that might work.

Good Evening,

On behalf of Ecole Connaught School Community Council, I would like to extend our invitation to attend our next meeting which is now taking place on Tuesday, December 10th in the nutrition room in the lower level of Connaught school. We have moved the date in order to allow us to be able to attend the Board of Education/School Community Council Forum 2013-14. The SCC is planning on meeting at 6:00 for a potluck with the official meeting to start at 7:00 and are hoping that you will be able to attend so that we can all get to know each other better and so that we can learn more about the reasons why our Heritage Designation motion was denied. Please be assured that only SCC members will be in attendance.

In the event that you are unable to attend this event, we hope that we will be able to connect with you in the future and that you will be able to supply us with a few dates that do work for the both of you.

Thank you,

Thanks Carla - Trish and I have taken a look and I have also found another map in one of the Connaught reports although that one does not seem to show the catchment areas for busing, only for the subdivision itself.

Hi Amy,

The link to the maps is below. Follow the links along the right hand side of the page.

Let me know if this works or not, literally or figuratively.

Cheers,

Hi Carla,

Are you able to provide me with a map of catchment areas and busing for subdivision 5 before the meeting in December 3rd?
